PANEL DOORS
PREMIUM 86

ALUMINUM DOORS

Living comfort begins at the threshold. The construction based on a technologically advanced system guarantees safety and very good thermal insulation.

The ideal door should be characterised by a low heat transfer coefficient, high water-tightness class and unique design. PREMIUM 86 doors achieve the heat transfer coefficient at the level of  $U_d=0.61 \text{ W/m}^2\text{K}$  and the watertightness class 6A!
